

ORGANIZATION OF THE MANUSCRIPT

1. Manuscripts must include the following sections in the order listed: title, name(s) of author(s), affiliations and their postal addresses; abstract, introduction, objective, materials and methods, results, discussion and conclusions, acknowledgements and list of references. The file name in the CG version should be made of the surname of the first author. The manuscript should be presented in “Microsoft Word”, in portrait pages (A4 10x297 mm). The margin sizes should be: top: 30 mm, right, left and bottom: 20 mm. Font style Times New Roman, 12 pt, normal print, 1,5 lines spacing throughout. The text should be aligned to the left and right margins. The first line of the paragraph should be indented 5 mm. The title of the article and all structural parts (Introduction, Abstract, Keywords, etc.) should be in Bold uppercase. The information about the authors (affiliations, etc.) should be in Italics. If necessary, Italics may be used in the text, e.g. for Latin terms.

1.1. The Title should be brief, informative, indicate the presented material and typed on a separate line in uppercase.

The title of the manuscript should be followed by: full name(s) and surname(s) of authors, affiliation and postal address, office phone and fax numbers, e-mail addresses.

1.2. Abstract at the beginning of the paper (not more than half of the page) should be written in the same language as the paper itself. It should briefly introduce the aim and object of research, methods, main results and the most important conclusions.

1.3. Keywords should follow the Abstract (4–6 words).

1.4. Introduction should briefly indicate the objectives and discuss the newest data of the study.

1.5. Materials and methods section should describe the objectives and methods of the study, names of used materials, their manufacturers (title and country), experimental conditions, process of experiment(s), and data processing techniques.

1.6. Section Results should clearly present the well-founded research data within SI system of units. The data are presented in the text, Tables and/or Illustrations.

1.7. Section Discussion and Conclusions should include a brief statement of principal findings, their comparison with the findings of other authors and clear and succinct conclusions.

1.8. Acknowledgements should be used to identify the funding sources and to note valuable intellectual or technical assistance.

1.9. The List of References should include all cited (preferably newest) sources. The list should be compiled following the bibliographic requirements (see item 10.11).

1.10. Tables and Illustrations should be placed in the text at the end of paragraphs containing references to them. Tables should be presented in portrait pages. They should be 17 cm wide, columns and rows should be separated using ½ pt lines. The text in the Tables should be in 10 pt, normal print, single spaced. Diagrams and drawings should be produced using computers. Complex drawings should be submitted as separate files (*.tif, .jpg). Photographs must be of good quality and fit for reproduction. The resolution of black-and-white illustrations must be at least 360 dpi. The diagrams with the data (tables) must be submitted as separate files (.xls) where each diagram and table are compiled in separate Excel sheets. Sheet numbers must correspond with illustration numbers (e.g. sheet 1 – Fig. 1). The text within tables and illustrations is typed in Times New Roman, 10 pt, normal print. The files with graphic material should be titled in the same way as the manuscript title. The whole numbers must be separated from the decimal numbers using decimal points in the English texts and commas in the Lithuanian texts. Statistical significance is given using lowercase p without intervals p in Lithuanian texts and uppercase P without intervals P in English texts.

1.11. The references in the text should be given in parentheses (surname, year). In the List of References, they should be arranged in alphabetic order using Latin characters. Conference materials having no structure of scientific article should not be included in the List of References. In the List of References, punctuation marks should be used as follows:
